

Summer School of Naval Architecture of Small Craft – Murter 2018

Summer school description:

Summer School is aimed at provoking student interest in boat and small craft industry as a specialty field within naval architecture.

Cooperation of several institutions dealing in various aspects of small craft a synergy effect is expected, provoking better understanding and mutual respect of different professions united about design, building, maintenance and operating small craft.

The venue of the School in Mali škver d.o.o. in Murter enables direct contact with real life small craft as well as linking competences acquired at university with practical consequences all in direct contact with professionals of different trades.

Dates: 17/8/2018 – 22/8/2018

For students in naval architecture, maritime studies, architecture and industrial design.

Contact:

Ivan Munić

University of Zagreb, Faculty of Mechanical Engineering and Naval Architecture

Department of Naval Architecture and Ocean Engineering

Phone: +385 1 6168 246

E-mail: ivan.munic@fsb.hr